Three Join Staff of Marshall County FRN

MOUNDSVILLE – The Marshall County Family Resource Network has added three new staff members in recent months.

Julia Chesla started at the FRN in September 2009 as Strategic Prevention Framework State Incentive Grant coordinator. She is a native of Jewett, Ohio, and graduated from the Ohio State University with a bachelor of arts degree in mass communications and social issues. Chelsea has worked as a research associate for the American Institutes of Research in Washington, D.C., and was the program administrator at the Transformation Management Office at the District of Columbia Public Schools before joining the FRN in September.

Tim Bishop has been hired Community Outreach Coordinator. A lifelong resident of Wheeling, Bishop went to Wheeling Central Catholic High School and graduated from West Liberty State College with a bachelor of science degree in communications with a specialization in television and radio. He has worked at WTOV-TV and the Ohio County Circuit Clerks office.

Sarah Phillips is a native of Moundsville and graduated from John Marshall High School in 2006. In December 2009, she earned her bachelors degree in broadcast journalism from Point Park University in downtown Pittsburgh. Phillips was previously employed by Point Park's admissions office and held internships at WTRF-TV in Wheeling and at VH1 News in New York City.

Both Bishop and Phillips joined the staff in December.
